

We are proud of the positive learning culture developed at Egguckland. We rarely (if ever) have any disruption in lessons and our students enjoy learning in calm, purposeful and engaging specialist classrooms. Staff continue to develop our powerful curriculum to ensure it is interesting, ambitious and taught in a way that really engages, motivates and challenges students. Our students will become curious, tenacious and passionate learners with 'fierce minds' who are driven by self-belief and confidence: the curriculum cultivates these qualities. There is no glass ceiling at Egguckland!

For parents and families to support their child at home effectively they need to know what is being taught, so we provide 'Knowledge Organisers' and information on our Website that details what we will be covering each week.

For the first 3 years, students will follow a broad range of subjects, all housed in specialist areas.

Whatever lesson a student is enjoying, taking pride in one's presentation and improving literacy and numeracy is always a key learning theme.

Year 10 and Year 11 is when students specialise in the qualifications they really wish to pursue, as well as continuing studies in English, Maths and Science. The choice of options is extensive and students really enjoy the choices they make.

In the Sixth Form, our curriculum prepares students well for a future in Higher Education, employment and training with an extensive choice of A-Levels, Vocational and Technical qualifications.

Caring

Of utmost importance is that all our students feel happy, safe and supported; students, parents and staff would expect and demand nothing less. Despite being asked on many occasions, we are not prepared to increase the numbers of students attending Egguckland as this risks an individual becoming 'lost in the system' and unnoticed. You can guarantee that every child attending Egguckland will be valued ; we are small enough to know every individual well, nurture their talents and get the best out of them. We pride ourselves on being a fully inclusive College built on the family values of tenacity, integrity, compassion, knowledge (our TICK values). It is important that our students are kind hearted, and understanding to themselves and others. Our reward and recognition systems celebrate these qualities. Students and staff are extremely proud of our pastoral systems; caring is part of our DNA. The tutor meets with students every day and is available to talk with parents/carers through email, telephone calls and arranged appointments. Parents can also access their child's real time attendance, behaviour, and achievement through Class Charts. From Duke of Edinburgh Awards, our broad range of extra-curricular activities, through to our student leadership programmes, we endeavour to nurture in every student the ability to understand the difference they can make to each other and empower them with the confidence to shine in all that life can present.

Achieving

We are highly ambitious for every individual Eggbuckland student and are relentless and utterly determined to be the most successful school in the South West. Academically, we are expecting to be in the top 10% of schools nationally for next year's results and the top 5% the year after.

We offer our students an exceptional range of extra-curricular activities and opportunities designed to inspire, motivate and push students to achieve their very best. In all sporting competitions, we compete well against other schools in the City, regionally and nationally, winning an increasingly large number of cups and trophies. Our Activate sports programme operates in the evenings, weekends and holidays and welcomes our students and their families to enjoy daily activities together. From our Duke of Edinburgh Award and Ten Tor teams, our Honours programme, our Sports Academy and through to our Performing Arts provision, there are plenty of activities for individual students to enjoy and in which to excel.

These enriching opportunities ensure that Eggbuckland students not only have the lasting memories of their time with us, but also develop important skills which, alongside their excellent academic achievements, will prepare them to develop into confident adults with strong spirits and brimming with self-confidence.

Admissions

Admissions to the College in Year 7 are coordinated by Plymouth Local Authority. The admissions scheme allows parents to apply for up to three secondary schools and list them in order of priority. Each applicant receives a single offer of a secondary school place. Offers are made on the same day every year throughout the country (March 1st, or the next working day should this fall on a weekend or Bank Holiday).

Occasionally places become available in other year groups and we are then able to consider additional students. A large number of students from other schools and colleges join the Sixth Form each year as we offer an extensive range of Level 2 and 3 courses which allows for unusual combinations of subjects. A separate Sixth Form prospectus is available from the College Office or our website.

Sports Academy

The Egguckland Sports Academy is a programme that allows students to enhance what they learn in mainstream provision and to build their individual resilience and character within higher level sport. This exciting opportunity will give students who have a gift for football or netball a unique opportunity to develop, through a programme that will be incorporated into their curricular timetable. Students that are part of the Academy will be offered opportunities to work with local primary schools, to run different events, to take part in trips to watch football and netball matches, to complete coaching/ umpiring qualifications. They will also take responsibility for fundraising, and gain added training and game time.

Students of Egguckland Community College undertake a rigorous application process for the Academy which requires students to complete a letter of application, a formal interview and a physical trial.

As the Academy is for the most able football and netball players, there is limited space available. On average, a group of 28 will be selected across both sports, (specific numbers will vary slightly each year).

This is an incredibly exciting opportunity for our students and is unique among schools within the surrounding area.
